April 2016 Newsletter

IN THIS ISSUE

Our Story...

The Red Wagon has been serving the community for two years already! As many of you know, the business started in my home at my dining room table! I have moved from there to a few different commercial buildings in town. My business grew much faster than I had planned, so we had to make our third and final move into our current "home" on Clark Road! We now have a wonderful open space to host a variety of classes and parties for all ages!

April Classes

We have added beginning quilting and crocheting classes this month! We also offer our regular sewing, crafting, and painting classes for children and adults. Please see our schedule posted on the website for class days and times: www.theredwagon.org

Don't forget, if one of the classes you want is full or has passed, we can add a new one for you! Just get a few friends together and contact us to help you make those arrangements!

We also host private parties for all age groups and all arts! (sewing, painting, etc)

Featured Artist: Dorie Jean

Dorie Jean's canvas painting classes have become a big hit! She teaches painting classes monthly and also does private parties for birthdays, wedding parties, girls night out, couples date nights, graduations, or any other fun event you want to celebrate! Dorie Jean is a local artist that grew up watching her father paint and is proudly carrying on his legacy and passion for art!

Student of the Month:

Grace Cooper has been coming to the Red Wagon since we first opened a few years ago. She always has a smile on her face and keeps a positive attitude, even when some of the classes get challenging. Grace is 8 years old and is becoming an amazing little seamstress! Way to go Grace, keep up the hard work!

Please help us welcome our new local teachers:

- Helen Carbonaro (Quilting)
- Amy Boyd (Crochet)
- Susan Simms (Specialty sewing/Quilling)

Thank you volunteers: Teresa & Holly Maydole!

Red Wagon News

- We are proud to announce that we now offer our classes to the Boys and girls club in the Magalia/Paradise community!
- We also offer field trips to local schools and girl/boy scout troops that want to come and learn to sew or create a specialty art project.
- Do you have any scrap fabric or craft supplies that you need to find a home for? We always accept donations and will gladly give these things a loving home!

Volunteers

If you or someone you know would like to volunteer their time with us, please contact us! The Red Wagon is a great place for hard working teens and adults to acquire work experience! We love mentoring and working with all ages that are willing to help around the shop. We promote and appreciate working with high school and college student volunteers who display excellent grades and have the desire to serve others through various arts. We also love working with local senior citizens who wish to volunteer time!

We always welcome your ideas and suggestions!
